FROM THE UPPER POTOMAC.

Washington, Dec. 12 .- Letters received at the Navy Yard state that on the 5th inst. Compander Rodgers left Tybee Roads before daylight with the steamers Ottawa, Seneca and Pembina, and crossed the bar of Warsaw Sound at half tide.

The United States forces approached the fort en Warsaw island within a mile, and sent Burns to it with a flag of truce, who found it entirely deserted. The fort consisted of an enclosed octagonal work, with platforms for eight guns on the water faces. The guns had been removed, the platforms cut up and a magazine

Commander Rodgers states that everything had the appearance of being very recently deserted. We counted five guns, apparently of large cal-fere on the face of the battery towards us. We could only see one gun on the other face. but there may have been more. We were near mough to see the men on the rampart, and the glistening of their bayonets.

Commodore Rogers states that a battery upon Little Tylee Island would be of no use whatever, although there may have been a signal man placed there, the Southeastern part of it having a commanding point for observation.

The highest point reached by Com. Rogers resalout 8 miles from Warsaw bar, about 10 pils from Savannah, and between 4 and 5 m is from Thunderbolt on one side and Monttomery on the other side.

(apt. Dupont in his communication to the Naty Department, dated the 4th of December. sate the apprehension of losing possession of the lay of St. Helena, so exceedingly valuable a harbor, for its proximity to Charleston and or the command it secures of large rivers supglying the interior communication with South (a olina, induced him to dispatch a second extration there under commander Drayton, with rders to hold the island till Gen. Sherman is prepared to assume military occupation of it, then he will transfer the fort to his troops.

It appears from a private letter that our guns are but ten miles from Savannah, the steeples which are plainly visible from the decks of our vessels as they ride at anchor. It seems to h understood that in addition to the occupation Beaufort, Gen. Viele was at once to be sent with a considerable force to occupy the most uncertant point in the new approaches to Sarachah, and that another force will go about the same time on a similar errand, in the direction of Charleston, to hold certain strategetic

Cd. Morgan, in command of the troops at Westen has issued a proclamation to the citi-1815 of Platte County, in which he calls upon them to aid in protecting the railroad, and calls enabsenters to return, assuring them of proaction to person and property, if loyal. No nogroes will be allowed within the camp, or to lave the State without a pass. All marauding justies and armed men will be shot.

Col Morgan's tores is composed of Missouans enlisted under Gov. Gamble's call. A strong force, including Col Jennison's regiment the 8th Kansas, Col. Wessel's, a portion of the 7th Missouri regiment and other troops are orared to West Point, Cates County.

The latest reports from Price states that he was still at Osceola and had made a speech vowing vengeance on Kansas for burning that place, A skirmish took place on the 6th, on the border of Johnson County, between some Missouri refogees, aided by some Kansas troops, and a body of rebels; three rebels killed.

FROM THE POTOMAC.

Iwo privates belonging to the 49th Pennsylratia regiment, who were performing picket day from Gen. Smith's division on Wednesday, having strayed beyond our lines, attempted to return Thursday morning when, on being ordered to halt by the guard turned a d run One was shot by the guards in two places, and has and died, and the other was taken prisoner by there. As the guards had been changed during the absence of these pickets they evidently supt sel them to be enemies.

ADDITIONAL FOREIGN NEWS.

The London Times is more moderate in its taments on Mason and Slidell's capture than the News. While denying that the Federal bovernment, in its own position that the existthe war is a mere rebellion, has a right to overfull neutral ships, it nevertheless admits that figlant herself has established precedents which now tell sgainst her in this matter of the Treat. But these precedents were made under titeumstances very different, it asserts, from which now occur. England was then lighting for existence, and did in those days That she would not do now, and allow others

In discussing the question whether Mason and Sidel were liable to capture as belligerents or tentrahand on board the Trent, the Times states It is the opinion of very eminent juriets that his was not the question to be adjudicated by the boat's crew. The legal course would have been to take the ship itself into port for adjuditation. It concludes with the expression that Logishmen will discuss the question with calm-tess, and appeal to the Federal States not to protoke war by such acts.

The London Daily News of the 28th says in refurd to the seizure Mason and Slidell, the remote totsequences of this act we shall not attempt to Predict. Enough for the present that it is one which will make it the duty of our government to instet on ample; complete, and immediate total action.

wanton folly bids us hope that Licutenant lating was noting without instructions, and that the Washington Cabinet wil no sooner hat has taken place in the Bahama thantel than it will disavow the act, restore Mason and Slidell, and tender the fullest apolo-U Nothing short of this reparation can be

Until there has been time to receive news tom Washington, we must consider that the telegre of passengers on board the Trent. was at act as much in excess of duty as it was in tolation of public law.

No Government should know better than that of the United States, the line which separates the rights of belligerents and neutrals respectively. While this war lasts we must submit to have our mercantile vessels stopped on the high seas by both parties in search of contra band goods. Had Lieut. Fairfax confined himself to demanding Mr. Slidell's despatches and taken them off, we must have acquiesced in his visit as one of the disagreeable occurrences incident to a voyage in the neighborhood of contending powers, but the seizure of persons of standing stands on a different looting.

In the eyes of Mr. Seward Messrs. Slidell and Mason are rebels; in our eyes they are simply passengers, and the Washington Government may rest assured that we shall no more permit it to take its rebels out of our vessels than we should concede a similar right to Austria o

The despatches of the traitor Commissioners escaped the vigilance of the San Jacinto, and safely arrived in the La Plata in charge of a gentleman of the party. On arriving at South-ampton, the families of Slidell and Mason, with their suit, went on board the Nashville, and the next day the dispatches were taken to London. The indignation on board the Trent was intense, and all the passengers were ready for a fight if wished. It is also stated that the Captain of the Trent supplied stores to the San Jacinto for the sustenance of Slidell and Mason.

The London Star has this statement in regard to the Mason and Slidell affair : " The event has not been unarficipated. It was expected to have come off on this side of the Atlantic. It is notorious that Federal ships have left our own ports to watch for the mail steamer with the deliberate intention of taking from her the Commissioners.

The opinion of the law officers of our Crown has been taken on the subject, and we are assured that it is clearly in favor of the right assumed by the U.S. Government.

FIGHT EXPECTED IN KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 13. The Frankfort, Ky., Gazette has a despatch which says that when the stage left Somerset at 11 o'clock on Wednesday there had been no fighting. The postmaster wrote as follows:

"We are expecting to fight hourly. The enemy are close upon us with a force estimated at from 8,000 to 15,000 men. Our force is about 5,000 effective men. Both eltizens and soldiers complain of Ge a. Thomas for not having sent reenforcements to Gen. Schoeff, as it must interfere with the laws laid down.

It is not improper to state that the plan of Gen. Buell was that Gen. Thomas should get in the rear of Gen. Zollicoffer.

Letters to-night express apprehensions about the result should Gen. Zollicoffer force Gen. Schoeff to an engagement before Gen. Thomas arrives. An officer who arrived from Loudon this evening says, that the rumor there was that after some picket fighting Gen. Zollicoffer began to retreatagain. If this should prove true, Thomas will not be in time to intercept Troops continue to pour in to Louisville .-Four regiments passed through yesterday.

The Commercial of this city has a dispatch which says that the paymaster from Loudon reports that Gen. Crittenden is at Cumberland Gap with 1500 men, and a large force in the vicinity. A letter to the Representative from Wayne County says that Maj. Helvetin and three others captured with him by the rebels, were killed after their capture.

All the leading men have been driven from Owensville, Bath County, and the town is in possession o: 500 rebels who are committing the greatest excesses. A regiment of infantry and a few companies of cavalry comprise all the troops at that point.

AFFAIRS IN REBELDOM.

The Commercial says we had yesterday a very interesting interview with two secession refugees from Louisiana, who succeeded in making their way from New Orleans to Nashville, through the rebel lines to the Ohio river. There is a scarcity of all the necessaries of life. All men between the ages of 18 and 45 were being impressed into the service.

Memphis is strongly fortified on the river side, and there were two gunboats at the landing. They confirm the report of the utter stagnation of business in New Orleans and constant apprehensions are felt of an attack.

Two Union refugees arrived at Nashville on the 6th inst. The city was in a high state of excitement on that day and the following, owing to an attempt being made to draft citizens into the army. The indignation of the people was intense. A riot broke out in the 4th ward, and four policemen who attempted to quell the mob were shot dead. The mob rushed to the capitol to demand to attack Gov. Harris who fied to Memphis. The papers of the next day announced that he had gone thither on business.

Last Saturday 2500 men from Louisiana pass ed through Nashville for Bowling Green, carrying black flags embellished with skulls and crossbones. They were mostly 60 days men, and were armed with shot-guns.

The people of Nashville were constantly expecting intelligence of a battle at Bowling Green. The rebel forces at that place were estimated by the papers and well informed people at 25, Reinforcements were constantly going forward. The hospitals at Nashville were filled with the sick. The number was estimated at from 8,000 to 10,000.

All the Texas rangers were on the sick list, and in a most pitable condition.'

BALTIMORE, Dec. 13. The Norfolk Day Book has dates from Pensacola to December 3d. There had been no further fighting, but Gen. Bragg nourly anticipated a renewal of the attack from Fort Pick ens.
